LOCAL MATTERS.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 16, 1867.

To our Subscribers.—We would call the attention of those who are indebted to us throughout the country, that the old year is closing and their accounts are not yet settled. The price of subscription is not large, and will not be missed from their plethoric pockets. The first of January has long been celebrated as a day set apart for closing old accounts, and we would not have our friends depart from this time-honored custom. Money is the motive power of every enterprise, and newspapers are no exception, and we respectfully ask our country subscr bers to cash up and commence the new year with a clear record.

PERSONAL.-The Hon. FERNANDO WOOD arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, by steamer, from Savannah, and is stopping at the Mills House.

AT AN oxtra meeting of the Young America Fire Engine Company, held on the 15th inst., JAMES S. WESTENDORFF was unanimously elected President, vice A. N. PUNDT, resigned.

REQUIEM MASS .- Attention is directed to the nc-

tice in another column of a Mass to be offered up | Charleston and Savannah a fair share of the pasat St. Mary's Church in behalf of the late E. GODEY FOR FEBRUARY .- Our thanks are due M M. Quinn & Bro. for the February number of Godey. It is, as usual, filled with excellent fashion plates and interesting reading matter. FREUNDSCHAFTSBUND.-Again the members los this club and their friends onjoyed a fine musical and dramatic feast. HERR PIETSON played his part well. The last piece, "Guten Abend, Herr Fischer," was excellently rendered, and afforded much amusement to the audience.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC .- We have received copy of this Almanac, valuable for its statistics and for reference as to other matters. Barring its political tendencies, it is the most valuable publication of the kind in the country. Published by the Tr.bune Association, New York.

Another Exhibition Coming to Town .- We learn that we are shortly to have a panoramic exhibition of "Paradise Lost," the same as that exhibited here last year, to which will be added representations of the "Apocalypse," from the recent designs of Gustave Dore and John Martin. Report speaks very highly of this exhibition.

SHOOTING .- We understand that a few days ago, a very trusty and intelligent negro man, of the name of Frank, who was the overseer upon the plantation of Mr. J. BENNET BISSELL, at Combahee, had been shot and killed by another negro, who was working upon the place as a bricklayer. The murder, as we are informed, was a foul one. and the offender has been arrested.

THE ATMOSPHERE.—The past two days have been unusually warm, and a stranger, who was not acquainted with the variability of our climate, would be led to think that the Almanac was mistaken and that it was spring instead of the depth of winter. Although the air has been very mild and temperate, yet there was a sultriness connected with it that made it unpleasant and oppressive. The moisture exuded from the pavements and marble floorings; and houses in damp situations were uncomfortably moist, while the streets looked as if they were just recovering from the effects of a slight shower. Overcoats were generally discarded, and fires were only made from habit, and the coal market was deckledly flat, few investments the advisability of disposing of their stock on hand. At 9 A.M., yesterday the thermometer was at 64. The weather-wise have been completely disconcerted by the change, and the prophets have renounced their calling in despair, while the community think that it is an "ill wind that blows nobody good," and are thankful that the poor are spared the sufferings occasioned by a severe

THE NEW CUSTOM HOUSE .- In the good old days we read about-the ante bellum era-it was decided by the powers that be-the heads of the nation-that Charleston should have a new Custom House- one suited to her commercial prosperity-and that the old building that served the double purpose of Postoffice and Custom House, be discarded. Proparations were immediately commenced on an extensive scale, and the lot at the corner of Market and East Bay streets was drained, filled up and piled until it was sufficiently firm to bear the weight of the building. This was designed to be the finest structure in the city, and great pains were taken to make it an edifice equal to Uncle Sam's ambition, and worthy of the port of Charleston.

The labor of building consumed several years, and when the war commenced it was still unfinished, and the appropriation of $5000, made by Secretary Cobb, was employed in roofing it, in order to preserve it from the action of the weather. During the war more momentous questions agitated the minds of the Confederate Congress, and the Custom House was neglected and abandoned. The yard and wharf were soon thickly covered with an undergrowth of myrtle and weeds, and the granite columns and unfinished blocks that were scattered around became completely hidden from

At present its condition is but little improved. The grounds have still the same wild appearance, and although the Collector uses the basement as a storehouse, no improvements have been made, and evidently none are intended. The masters of the position at Washington have seemingly no wish to make any appropriations that would benefit the South; and although our commerce has improved since the war, and the necessity for increased accommodations will soon be as urgent as they ever were, yet the Government is content to rent buildings that are unsuited for the purpose. and the Granite Custom House is suffered to stand in its present unfinished state, as a monument to reprove us for our late rebellious course.

THE FITNESS OF THINGS.—We forget whether it was LUTHER OF WESLEY who remarked that he did hall, Thomas Flynn, Nathaniel Fields, D. A. not see why the Devil should have all the good tunes, and the Church only those of a doleful character. Certain it is that there is a prevailing prejudice still widely existing in favor of solemn music for the Church service. Some there are who think that the music should, in all cases, be adapted to the words, but this idea is not unfrequently treated by the professors of the tuneful art as antiquated. Such a strict adherence to the "qetter" is thought to be very injurious to the full development of the divine muse. This train of thought was suggested by attendance at church recently, not many hundred miles from the Palmetto city. The minister "gave out"

"Plunged in a gulf of dark despair." After an elaborate prelude the choir struck up "Gratitude,"-an adaptation, if we are not mistaken of a German waltz. After the first stanza had been sung, the organist showed his taste, and enlivened the audience, by giving the aria, with variations, of course, of "Still so gently o'er me stealing." The second was sung, and for interlude followed a few bars from "A life on the Ocean wave." Then the choir gave the third stanza of the hyran, which was relieved by an aria from "Masaniello," and so on to the end.

For some unaccountable reason, ministers de not like this arrangement. And we ourselves think it would work much better to let the organist or leader of the choir first "give out" the tune: the rector can then adapt his hymn to it afterwards. We throw out this hint as an experiment merely, not feeling quite sure whether or not it

This announcement, we know, will be hailed with joy by the entire community, to whom the bells were a noverfailing source of pride, and whose sweet chimes when one, heard were never forgotten. But the long, long, weary days are passing away, and Father Time, with his leaden wings, will soon bring the joyful intelligence that once more our ears are to be regaled and our senses delighted by the joyful peals that were wont to issue from old St. Michael's tower. The bells were sent to the foundry from whence they were originally obtained many years ago; and they will come to us, after their second birth, fraught with many remem-

A FEW WORDS OF COMMON SENSE. How few there are who are not subject to some affection

How few there are who are not subject to some affection of the lungs or respiratory organs, who, by neglecting premonitory symptoms, aggravate the complaint, until disease strikes its shafts, causing inexpressible torture of the patient, and anxiety and distress to friends. "Only a cold!" "A slight sore throat!" is the healless remark of many when so affected. Yes; "Only a cold," was the thoughtless expression of thousands whom Death has marked for his prey.

Forewarned—Forearmed! should be the motto forever in the minds of all subject to Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, or Influenza. Words of advice should be heeded by all suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption. Relief is within their reach; and, if neglected, fatal consequences ensue—a life of misery—a daily, hoprly struggle for existence. A contest in which there can be but one victor—Death!

Does it not appal the strongest mind, to think!" the istence. A contest in which there can be but one victor—Death!

Does it not appal the strongest mind, to think! If the result caused by neglect? Then why delay? If hat excuse can be offered, when timely warning is 12 unded myour cars? When the danger is pointed it, why not avoid it? MARSDEN'S PECTORAL BALM is been used with success in nearly a million of cases, not is endorsed by the Medical Faculty as the most prompt and efficacions remedy that scientific research has discovered, to relieve and cure all cases of Colphs, Coids, Influenze, and Consumption, if the case is not beyond all hope. Even when the sufferer is 1.1 the last stages, he will find relief by using this properation. One bottle will convince the most incredulous, that the merits of this preparation are by no means exaggerated; in fact, fall far abort of the enlogies bestowed upon it by thousands who have been cured by its imely use. A guarantee accompanies each bottle and dealers are instructed in every instance to refund the money when this preparation fails to relieve.

Prepared by T. W. MARSDEN, No. 487 Broadway, New York. Price, 50 cents small bottle; $1 large size.
